Matt,

Thank you. That's helpful. We'll carry on with our assessment of the complaint. If, as a result of that initial assessment, the complaint is referred to me for investigation, then we may well seek to interview you as an independent witness and your offer in that respect is appreciated.

Regards,

Jeremy.

Jeremy

I was a witness to this incident and have spoken to Ms Alexander and Mr Keen. In my professional judgement it is not appropriate for a police investigation. Basically, the events and circumstances could not cause a reasonable person to apprehend immediate and unlawful personal violence. I have advised Ms Alexander to seek redress for her concerns through your investigation process; or through the local government ombudsman if necessary. I have advised Mr Keen to prepare for similar disruption at public meetings and if necessary to seek an injunction to prevent it. I am happy to be interviewed about my view of the incident if necessary.
