Consultation topics

1 Persistent begging

Oxford City Council and Thames Valley Police are working together to tackle persistent begging, which is an offence under the Vagrancy Act 1824. Under the Public Spaces Protection Order people persistently begging will be identified by a multi-agency working group, warned about their behaviour and encouraged to access the support available to them. If their behaviour continues they could be in breach of the Order.

5 Sleeping on the streets

Oxford City Council strongly supports agencies to help people who find themselves sleeping on the city streets due to difficult circumstances. However, a small number of people who have been provided with support and accommodation choose to continue to sleep on the streets, putting their health and well-being at risk. These people are identified by a multi-agency working group, are encouraged to access the support available to them and could be warned about their behaviour.

6 Non-compliant busking and street entertainment

Oxford City Council encourages safe busking and street entertainment in Oxford city centre. A voluntary code of practice has been developed over a number of years to support this aim for the benefit of the public and the entertainers. The code of practice covers noise levels, length of time in one place, authorised locations, size of pitch area and the authorised period of entertainment. The code of practice is available on the City Council's website. However, some entertainers do not comply with the code resulting in unfair and sometimes unsafe practices.
