I have worked in catering for over 14 years, dealing with food and people alike.

Having had the opportunities of working in a fast-food chain as well as in higher education establishment. I am accustomed to dealing with people face-to-face and being courteous but above all always providing a professional service.

Therefore, taking all the necessary training I have acquired over the years into account, I believe I can make a substantial contribution to the small business sector which I believe the Oxford City Council is an avid supporter of.

I am equally aware of the food hygiene requirements and standards as well as maintaining high standards. This also encompasses health and safety checks not only for myself but also for those whom I work with.

Should my application be successful I fully intend to work and comply with The Council's policies and health and safety requirements.
