Oxford City Council is working to improve green skills in the local area and has recently launched an upskilling project to increase the knowledge base needed to help Oxford reach Net Zero. We have a £60k funding pot to enable training/qualifications for a range of beneficiaries from individuals to businesses, social housing providers and non-profits. ODS have been awarded 100 Social Housing Decarbonisation Fund (SHDF) properties to capacity build local retrofit skills. Oxford City Council is part of the Clean Heat Streets trial project led by Samsung Research UK. The project is a partnership including both universities, SSEN, Oxfordshire County Council, Rose Hill and Iffley Low Carbon group and others and aims to support the transition of the Rose Hill and Iffley community from gas boilers to Air Source Heat Pumps (ASHP). The Council commissioned 12 whole house plans to be undertaken on common house archetypes in Oxford. These were then turned into case studies to engage residents in how to improve the energy efficiency of their homes. The 12 “House Like Mine” case studies are at the heart of an engagement plan with neighbourhoods, landlords and citywide. The project is due to launch in the coming months. The Council secured £2.5m through the Government’s Social Housing Decarbonisation Fund and is investing £5m of its own capital to retrofit council houses in Oxford. Mitigating the environment impact of funded activity has been added as an essential criterion for all grant assessments and monitoring forms. We run an extensive local event programme on Oxford City Council land to reduce the need for residents to travel to events further afield.	The Clean Heat Streets project installed 6 'show home' heat pumps in the community acting as 'heat pump champions' to support with consumer engagement. This approach led to a further 6 heat pumps installs, towards a 15% deployment density. Through the community engagement carried out in the area, Clean Heat Streets has gone on to support a further 12 consumers with their heat pump installation, outside of the project utilising funding from the Boiler Upgrade Scheme. New windows, loft insulation, draft proofing, external wall insulation and heat pumps have been installed which, when finished, will bring around 300 council homes up to EPC C rating, reducing energy needed for heat and so cutting carbon emissions and bills. The project is due to be completed in 2025. Over 110 diverse events run on Oxford City Council land per year.
